Mandela—Legoland

Mandela have self-funded their trip to Legoland during life skills by doing a car wash, bake sale and 5 mile walk they worked extremely hard and organised it themselves they showed great teamwork and determination even washing cars in the cold!
The day started off to a bang with the class creating songs on the bus ride there - turns out some students have a hidden talent of singing! They had a great day out in the end and felt the hard work was worth it, they even had enough money left to buy an ice cream and a Lego keychain each. The class all thoroughly enjoyed watching one of the staff members and a student get soaked on one of the
